DECIDE ON TUESDAY. Following are lists of the candidates for whom the voters of New-York City will east their ballots to-morrow in addition to the Presidential Electors. There are no fights in the Republican party, and consequently there is only one Republican candidate for each office. The Democrats in a number of districts are still quarrelling over nominations, and consequently have several contending candidates in such districts. In these the candidates are distinguished as Temmony, Anti-Tammany, or Independent, according to their political afiliations:

MR. ASTOR AMONG THE GERMANS.

MEETING IN BESTHOVEN HALL-THE SENSE IN WHICH MR. ASTOR IS A CARPET-BAGGER. Beethoven Hall was crowded yesterday afternoon by over 800 persons to hear speeches in favor of William W. Aster, the Republican nominee in the VIIth Congressional District. The audience was exclusively German. Frederick Fleccus occupied the chair, and introduced Dr. W. E. Wyland and Sigismund Kaufmann, both of whom made speeches in German. Mr. Kaufmann pointed out that during elections for the Presidency unfortunately many persons treated Congressional and municipal elections with partial neglect, and thus political rogues. found it easy work to slip into effice and power. In conclusion he referred to Mr. Astor's services in the State Legislature, and especially to his efforts to reduce the fare on the elevated roads. Mr. Astor, who had meanwhile been sitting on the platform with others, was next introduced. He acknow edged in German the demonstrations of approval from all sides, and then excusing himself for his lack of fluency in that language, spoke in part as follows in English:

"You have given me so kind and cordial a reception that I can truly say I am among friends. I did not come to address you this afternoon, but merely to listen to what others said. It would be unnecessary now for me to speak of my political principles. I have already spoken frackly on the labor question, of the position of manufacturers, and of the position of American laborers. In my opinion, two things are particularly to be guarded and to be watched with a jealous eye. They are the interests of American labor and of our free schools. In one respect I am proud and happy to be called a "carpelbagger" in this district. I mean that I am not so narrow-minded and sellish as to say that the interest I take in the affairs of the city is limited to the street in which my house is after a led. [Applause.] Three years ago I said to the convention which monimated me to the State Legislature: 'I will not go to the Legislature as the representative of any classes or district, but as that of all classes and of the city at large.' That is my position now. I have now as large an interest in the VIIIth district as in the district in which I reside. This is unimportant, however, for I always take a large and broad view of questions relating to thus city, and, indeed, to the whole State.

I see a good many young men present; some who You have given me so kind and cordial a recep

I see a good many young men present; some who are about to cast their first ballot. Some have only just attained their majority—so has the Republican party just attained its majority. Now do not let its maturity become its end, but let us all carry it forward to a happy future which will insure the prosperity of the country at large. [Applause.] I can be mind the first time I gave my ballot for a President of the country at large in the majority rejecting the amendment and those having Republican majorities ratifying it.

dential candidate—that man who was and is one of the giants of his epoch, and one of the nobleat sons of his country—I aliude to Ulysses S. Grant. [Chec.s and applause.] I will not detain you any longer, but will only say that I think the success we may expect next Tuesday will be as much a triumph to you as it will to me. I think I can have great confidence in the voters of this District, for I belong to a German family which has been closely identified with the growth, advance and prospenty of the City of New-York. [Great applause.]

WORKING FOR THE CANDIDATES Frederick G. Gedney, president of the Young Men's Republican Club, has issued a circular calling attention to the action of the organization in sup porting the following members of the club who are candidates. on the Repubcinb who are candidates on the Republican tickets for eletion. General Anson G. McCook and William Waldorf Astor as r-presentatives in Congress; Horace Russell, for Judge of the Superior Court; Myer S. Isanes, for Judge of the Marine Contr; Robert Ray Hamilton, for Assembly, and James W. Hawes for Alderman. Calling attention to the high character, unquestioned ability and general fitness of the candidates, the creater ungos upon the members of the Club, and those of the Campaign Union, to spare no honorable effort to secure their election.

In response to the request of the Republican State Committee, a committee of lawyers—members of the cinb—will be at the headquarters, No. 185 Fifth ave., to attend and give advice, particularly to persons allegally arrested on election day.

ACCEPTANCE OF MR. TALCOTT. James Talcott has accepted the Republican nomi nation for Congress for the Xth District. In his letter of acceptance he says: I such favor of honest money, now and for all time; protection for American industry, guaranteeing fair pay for honest labor against foreign competition; legislation enforced by the Executive which shall protect ine citizen in every State of the Union in casting his vote according to the dictates of his own conscience.

Mr. Taleatt is a substruction.

Mr. Talcott is a substantial merchant, who is not only prominent in business, but also in connection with charitable and benevolent enterprises. He has been very liberal in his benefactions, and has shown bimself a public-spirited civizen in many ways. His nomination is a popular one with the Republicans of that district, and he will receive an earnest and enthusiastic support.

CAMPAIGN IN HUDSON COUNTY. The campaign in Hudson County, N. J. has been one of great activity on the part of both the Republicans and the Democrats. Lewis A. Brighman. the present Republican Congressman from that district, EX-GOVERNOR FULLER AT COOPER UNION. Ex-Governor Fuller, of Utah, addressed a large meeting at Cooper Institute yesterday afternoon on 'The Moral Lessons of General Garfield's Lafe." The audience was composed mainly of young men. Mr. Fuller sald in part :

By the simple power of honest purpose he has earned henor and fame. The moral lesson to be drawn from his life is unselfishness, the doing of right without regard to personal interests. Love of country, love of family and love of duty are the principles that carried James A. Garfield onward to the highest position in American society.

THE DEMOCRATIC PARADE AT NEWARK. NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 31 .- It is claimed that 10,000 men were in line in the Democratic parade here, and that 40,000 were in the streets; also that the business men turned out and made a great impression. By actual count by a Thibush correspondent there were round numbers 1,900 men in the parade. The 40,000 on the streets can be simmered down to 15 000, and even that is a large estimate. There were just 182 business men in line. Democrats admit that as a grand final lemonstration if was a failure.

CHARGED WITH FALSE REGISTRATION. Samuel Muller, of No. 222 Sixth-st., charged John Carney, at the Tombs Ponce Court yesterday, with aving falsely registered in the Xth Election District of the Xth Assembly District, by stating that he had lived at No. 3 First-et. for over thirty days previous to Oc-tober 27. He was released on his own recognizance by Justice Daily.

WHO ARE THE FRIENDS OF THE NEGROT THE CLAIMS OF BUTLER AND OTHER DEMOCRATS

ANSWERED FROM THE RECORDS-THE VOTES IN THE STATES ON THE EITTEENTH AMENDMENT. Washington, Oct. 30.-General Butler, believed that in going over to the Democracy he was long that thing which would best promote the interest of the colored tace. Other Democratic erators, of more consistent party records in Congress and out, have on a thousand occasions set them selves to the task of proving that the Democratiparty is the true friend of the colored man.

Conspicuous success has never attended such efforts. Every page of political history since the party had its origin proves the claim to be false. But the record is too voluminous for easy mental grasp, and mere denial carries little weight. The Congressional Committee has, therefore, thought it heat to select a single illustrative political event upon which the Democratic and Republican parties took issue, and print for circulation the record made by the two parties upon it. The event selected was the adoption by Congress, and the ratification by the States, of the Fifteenth Amendment to the National Constitution.

The amendment, providing that "the rights o sitizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude, and that Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation," was favorably acted upon by the United States Senate on February 26, 1869. The vote stood 39 in favor of adoption, and 13 opposed. The 39 were Republicans and the 13 were Damoerats. On the 27th of the same month the House concurred in the action of the Senate by a vote of 144 (all Republicans) to 44 (all Democrats).

The amendment then went to the States for ratification by their Legislatures. Every Demogratic paper in the land, and every Democratic politician paper in the land, and every Democratic politician tried by fair means and foul to secure its defeat. Not a single State Legislature having a Democratic majority recorded itself in favor of its ratification, while in only two of the Northern States did any Democratic legislators vote for its ratification. As the amendment simply prevaled in effect that no abridgment of the right of suffrage should be lawful in regard to colored men which was not operative toward all other classes, so the negative votes upon the proposition for rabilitation in dicated the intention of the men who cast them to and sametime in the abridgment of that right or in its utter abolition.

intention of the near who east them to and same-time in this abridgment of that right or in its utter abolition.

The Committee gives the vote of States in detail. Singularly enough Microscopet, the abotting place of the buildozer, is the only State whose Legisla are voted unanimously for ratification. Five Democrats in the Senate and fifteen in the House voted with the Republicans affirmatively.

New-York, in comparison, should be placed at the other extreme. Her Legislintare, which was flepublican in 1800, ratified the amendment by a sariet party vota. In 1870, the Legislature having become Democratic, the action was reversed by a strict party vote, the Democraty recording themselves composed to ratification.

When the amendment was first submitted to the Georgia Senate the Democrats, owing to some of the Ropabileans being about, had a majority and rejected it. At a later date, however, it was ratified the division upon both occasions being upon party lines. In Indiana the Democrats refused to vote, and some of them absented themselves to break the quorum. The flepabileans were strong enough, however, to ratify the amendment.

In the Lower House in Maine, the Democrats found with the fepublicans to ratify the amendment. The Democrate of the Senate, however, opposed it. The New-Hampshire Senate voted to ratify without a division. The Democrate of the Honse voted in the negative. One having a Democratic Legislature in 1850, help Republican Legislature ratified it by a strict party vote.

In Rhode Island four Republican votes were cast in opposition to the amendment, the only instance given, except in West Virginia, where three Republicans voted in the negative.

The Teanessee Senate never acted upon the conditions of the republicant to the regulative.

LOCAL MISCELLANY.

SUFFOCATED BY GAS. DEATH OF A YOUNG ITALIAN GIRL IN A SPRING STREET HOTEL.

Among the persons who arrived at this port from Europe on Saturday were Errico and Catello Ingenito, brothers, and their sister Sophia, twenty-one years old. They had come from Italy to visit an uncle who lives in Philadelphia. Their appearance indicated that they belonged to the middle class of Italians, and they could not speak any English. The young woman was very pretty. An interpreter, whom they met at Castle Garden, directed them to the Asson House, at No. 79 Spring-st., where they engaged lodgings for the right. The brothers occupied a room on the third floor and the sister a room adjoining. They were all unfamiliar with the use of gas, and when they were about to retire they were warned not to blow the gas out. Early yesterday morning the servants discovered a strong odor of gas on the third floor of the hotel. The door of Miss Ingenito's room was forced open and she was found lying on the floor dead. She evidently had been sufficiated while attempting to get out of the room. It is believed that she turned off the gas and then turned it on again by accident. Her brothers yesterfay obtained a permit to remove the body to then turned it on again by accident. Her brothers vesterday obtained a permit to remove the body to Philadelphia.

FUNERAL OF DR. SEGUIN.

The funeral services over the remains of the late Dr. Edonard Seguin were held vesterday noon at his late residence. No. 41 West I wentletn-st. Dr. E. Seguin, the only son of the late Dr. Seguin, said that his father having been a free thinker it was though best by all his family that ther should be no religious exercises, but that the service should be conducted by laymen, who had been intimate with his father while alive, and could best describe his character. Dr. Seguin, he said, had always governed his life by rule of honor and the old adage: "Do unto thy neighbor as thou wouldst have him do unto thee," Sketches of the Doctor's life were then given by Dr. Harvey B. Wilbur, superintendent of the State Idnot Asylum at Syracuse; Dr. Marton Sims, of Brooklyn; and Dr. Brown, superintendent of the School for Imbecile Children, Parre, Mass. Many prominent physicians were present. The body, at 2 p. m., was removed to Woodlawn for interment, only the family and immediate friends accompanying it. FUNERAL OF DR. SEGUIN.

GENERAL GRANT'S SUNDAY. GENERAL GRANT'S SUNDAY.

General Grant, accompanied by one of his sons, attended the services at the Central Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday morning and listened to a serinon by the Rev. Dr. Newman. After the services so large a crowd of people gathered about the doors to see the General, and so much exgerness was manifested to obtain a good view of him that he was forced to take refuge in the pastor's house. The crowd was patient and persistent, and General Grant had some difficulty, even after waiting, in eluding it. oluding it.

In the atternoon the General and Mrs. Grant drave out. Last evening a number of persons called upon him, among whom were Governor and Mrs. Cornell. They remained for sometime. Among those who called in the course of the day were General Sheridan, ex-secretary Boutwell, Senator Chaffee, H. L. Grant, the Rev. Dr. Newman, Jurebui Yerawai Kimihya, Consul of Japan, huribow Weed, Lieutennant-Colonel M. V. Sheridan, General R. Maeffeely, W. R. Davis, jr., Sumon Stevens and J. Henry Work.

MLLE, BERNHARDT DINES OUT. MILLE. BERNHARDT DINES OUT.

Owing to a severe cold, Mile. Bernhardt did not venture to pay the expected visit to the photographer yesterday. Her physician had ordered ber to remain indoors until her throat trouble had completely disappeared. Despite his strict commands the actress drove to the pier at which the steamer Amerique is lying, and dined on board with the officers and several other Frenchmen. The French Society UEsperance presented through a committee headed by its president, M. X. Birer, an address of welcome to Mile. Bernhardt.

A BOLD PICKPOCKET.

A BOLD FICKPOCKET.

Eusene Reinard, of 143 Christopher-at., yesterday morning went into a restaurant to obtain some refreshments. He took his purse, containing $12, from his breast pocket, and having settled his account replaced his purse. A man who sat at the next table arose and followed him out, and whon a few feet from the door thrust his hand into Reinard's pocket and seized the purse. Reinard pursued and causht the thest, who struck him a violent blow in the face. Officer Lally, of the Ninth Precinet, came up in time to arrest the theft. The prisoner gave his mane as Joan Dumphy, age thiety-three. He was arraigned before Justice Wandell at the Jefferson Market Police Court, and was locked up in default of $1,000 bad to answer.

SHARP WORDS FROM DR. CROSBY. In announcing a meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society, to take place at the Broadway Tabernacle this week, Dr. Howard Crosby, from his pulmity seterday said, after commenting on the work done by the society: "I cannot retrain, in this connection, from referring to an unbody woman of shame who has come to this city to flaunt herself on a public stage, I hope none will so degrade themselves as to encourage her unmoralities in any way." OLD JOHN STREET METHODIST CHURCH.

The members of the Old John Street Methodist Episcopal Church celebrated yesterday the one-hundred-and-fourteenth anniversary of the founding the society, and the one-hundred-and-twen miversary of the dedication of the first chur building erected on the present site. ### MR GRACE'S LETTER OF ACCEPTANCE.

NEW-YORK, Oct. 23, 1880. To the Committee from the Democratic Organization of the City and County of New York and to the Committee from the Democratic Organization of Tummany Hall's

GENTLEMEN: On being notified by you of my nomination for the office of Mayor by the Convention which you represent I replied orally that I ac cepted the nomination and would formally notify you of my acceptance in writing. I appreciate the high honor conferred upon me and recognize the grave responsibilities which the incumbency of the office would impose. I accept the trust confided to me as the representative of a united Democracy, and if elected shall endeavor to discharge the duties of the office satisfactorily to the public and with credit

In dedicating my time and energy to these duties I shall hope to exercise the same prudence, diligence and constancy of purpose which I have always sought to impress upon my commercial career. Efficiency and economy of administration should be promoted by every public officer, and I shall spare no exertion to secure both. The debt of the city, although considerably lessened of late years, most although considerably lessened of late years, must be kept down to the lowest point, and by wise man-agement of financial affairs gradually extinguished. The parks which adorn our metropolis should be preserved in order and neatness for the benefit of the people, and all needed public improvements prosecuted with visor and economy.

The system of sewerage apon which depends in so great a degree the health of the city requires water-ful care that malarial diseases may be prevented.

great a degree the health of the city requires waterful care that malarial diseases may be prevented.
A supply of water in abundance to all parts of the city is a public necessity, and every proper means smould be n-ed, consistent with economy of expenditure, to meet the wants of a rapidly-increasing population.

The commercial importance of New-York demands that a system of deckage for the vessels entering our harbor should be perfected, and that facilities for handling and transferring freight upon its water front should be increased. This subject, with which my long connection with the shipping business has made me somewhat familiar, would rebusiness has made ine somewhat familiar, would re-ceive from me faithful examination, and I should deem it my duty to recommend such measures in connection therewith as would advance the inter-ests of commerce and increase the prosperity of the

If elected, it shall be my aim to preserve in its in If elected, it shall be my aim to preserve in its integrity the common school system so long established and recarded with so much pride by the American people. In any appointments which I may have to make in connection with our school management, I shall not fail to give full and proper recognition to the prevailing American sentiment in the regard. I believe that the common schools, established by the people and esteemed by them as their richest inheritance, should be manusained by them inviolate, and I shall favor liberal appropriations for their support. All expenditures of public moneys for charitable purposes should be prudently made, and the laws which regulate them fathfully enforced.

In discharging the duty devolving upon me in this enforced.

In discharging the duty devolving upon me in this connection, I will know neither sect ner creed, and act with entire impartiality.
My name was presented for nomination by one of the two principal Democratic organizations of the city, accepted by the other, and approved by other influential political associations. In so far as such considerations may be taken into account, I small not be unjust to any of them, and I shall not forget that I owe my services to the whole public, and shall endeavor to merit the approbation of that I owe my services to the whole public, and shall endeavor to merit the approbation of all entizers whose first concern, irrespective of party considerations, is that the public service shall be honestly and efficiently conducted.

Indeept the nomination or the Democratic party as it is tendered to me, without piedges to individuals or political organizations, and, if elected, shall discharge the duties of the high office of Mayor in the interest of all the people. Yours, very respectfully,

W. R. GRACE.
